

COMPANY PROFILE

Blenny Technology is a South African company that specializes in providing functional and user-friendly software solutions for the employer and employee market. Formerly known as Abacus Payroll Software, the company has over 10 years of experience in the South African payroll industry, which has provided us with unique insights into the needs of their customers and the challenges associated with payroll and related functions.

The vision of Blenny Technology is to offer a comprehensive and integrated solution that encompasses all aspects of the daily productivity of both employers and employees. With technology as the driving force, the company aims to deliver solutions that streamline employer processes, while also providing employees with tools to enhance their own knowledge base and engagement with their employers.

Blenny Technology understands the importance of ensuring tax and legal compliance on the employer's side. Their software solutions address these requirements, allowing employers to meet their obligations accurately and efficiently. Moreover, they recognize the significance of fostering real employer engagement with their employees, providing features and functionalities that promote a positive and productive relationship between the two.

By combining our expertise in payroll management and the focus on leveraging technology, Blenny Technology aims to empower both employers and employees, ultimately improving overall productivity and efficiency in the South African market.
